July 1980

Dear Rhodes Scholar:

It is again the season when we attempt to bring our records up to date. Might I ask if you could tell us on the enclosed postal card whether the address we currently show for you will be correct as of September 1, 1980. If changes are anticipated, I should be grateful if you would indicate them.

I can report that the folio of testimonial letters presented to Sir Edgar and Lady Williams at the Going Down Dinner was received with both surprise and delight. May I extend my personal thanks to all of you who contributed to this project. I hope that you will understand that it has been a physical impossibility to acknowledge individually all the letters that have been received. I do wish to express my gratitude and to convey that of the Williamses as well. (I might add that the folios containing the letters are designed to accommodate expansion. I mention this for the benefit of those who may still wish to write but who could not do so in time for the Going Down Dinner.)

I can also report that the initial response to the invitation to support the Oxford Parks Reforestation Program has been gratifying. Though the goal has not yet been reached, this project seems to be solidly launched.

All best wishes,

Yours,

William J. Barber
